ON GETTING HER GROOVE BACK
& HOW LOVE SAVED HER

FILLER UP

Your scalp and hair fibers are not so different from your skin, so they deserve the same high-quality ingredients and multistep love that your complexion gets. That's the thinking behind Phyto's hair-thickening collection, which includes a shampoo (shall we call it a cleanser?), a serum, and a treatment mask infused with moisturizing, hair-plumping hyaluronic acid as well as strengthening acacia collagen and protective grape extract. Your face will be jealous.

1. PHYTO Phytodensia Fluid Plumping Mask, $59.
2. PHYTO Phytodensia Plumping Serum, $40.

MC'S MOST WANTED

When it comes to skincare, we want what Tata Harper's having (the beauty entrepreneur always looks preternaturally refreshed). Now we know the secret: this velvety new cream with hydrating sugar acids, skin-softening kelp, and red maple bark extract. "It's our richest moisturizer to date, and it took about three years to get the formula just right," Harper says. "I use it in the morning for an extra boost of hydration that leaves me with the dewy look I love." Hope she doesn't mind if we do the same.

TATA HARPER Crème Riche Velvet Moisturizing Cream, $185.

HANDHELD ART

This year's giftable makeup offerings come wrapped in miniature works from au courant artists. Julep enlisted Gretchen Röehrs to embellish its holiday lip gloss duo with whimsical illustrations. Kathe Fraga, a painter inspired by the romanticism of chinoiserie, decorated the refillable shadow-and-blush palette in Clé de Peau Beauté's coffret, which also features a mini mascara and lipstick (not shown). And the slick and sexy photography of Desiree Mattsson adorns Pat McGrath Labs' eyeshadow palette. Wrapping paper totally optional.

1. JULEP Sheers to You Ultra-Hydrating Lip Gloss Duo, $20.
2. CLÉ DE PEAU BEAUTÉ Nuit de Chine Makeup Coffret, $195.
3. PAT MCGRATH LABS Mothership II Sublime Eye Palette, $125.

STATUS UPDATE TROIAN BELLISARIO

THE ACTRESS SHARES HER FAVORITE WAYS TO UNWIND DURING THE CHAOTIC HOLIDAYS

In the zone: "The guided meditation on the Rituals app (free on App Store and Google Play) helped me start my own meditation practice. Now I can fall into silence, choose an anchor point, and just be."

Class act: "I'm a vinyasa girl. I love to move. On a deeper level, yoga creates distance between me and my worries, so I can respond instead of react."

Relaxing scents: "Rituals' Holy Smoke candle [right, $45] smells like a beautiful old church, and the Sakura Shower Foam [$15] is rad."

Write it out: "I stockpile Moleskine journals—hard, soft, and in every color. Shinola makes incredible leather covers that look like old library reference books."

Glow on: "Origins has an awesome illuminating eye cream. My makeup artist applies it under concealer to reflect the light."

Light show: "I was in Reykjavik, Iceland, one New Year's Eve, and they light crazy bonfires all over the city, and families shoot off firecrackers together in the street. It's breathtaking."

Seasonal soundtrack: "Frank Sinatra, always, and Bright Eyes has a really special Christmas album." —Taylore Glynn

Cold Comfort

Winter is no longer coming, people—it's here. Upgrade basic hand sanitizer, a flu-season must-have, to Byredo's new "rinse-free hand wash," a chic germ-killer that moisturizes skin and smells amazing. And consider a face cream designed for your climate: Pour Moi's Polar version is formulated for low humidity and temperatures 20°F to 45°F, but if your hometown doesn't get that dry or cold, try the Temperate variety for normal humidity and 45°F to 75°F weather.

1. POUR MOI Réponse du Climat Polar Day Cream, $35.
2. BYREDO Rinse-Free Hand Wash in Suede, $30.
